Why Should I Worship?

I never had a doubt about whether my grandparents were Christians. They enjoyed listening to the old gospel hymns and preaching on the radio and television. But they did not worship nor did they belong to a Christian congregation. They made sure that their children all were confirmed at the local Lutheran Church Missouri Synod congregation in town. It was always a strange thing to me as it was a usual thing for my family to go to the early worship service before we went to our grandparents' farm for Sunday meal and fun.

"As Christians we're supposed to go to church," is a common response. However, when the Christian experience becomes an obligation rather than a response from the heart, many people choose not to take part in that activity.

"Our family has been attending church for generations," is another answer that is especially true at Trinity. We are blessed to have generations of families worshipping as part of our community. We are blessed to have members who have been here for decades! But you are not a Christian just because you're born into a Christian home. Following Jesus is a conscious choice rather than a cultural inheritance. The social life of fellowship in the church is a bonus to church attendance, not a substitute for spiritual motivations.

The Church is to be a sign to the world of the work of God an expression of what God is doing here for all. The Church is a community of people called to recognize and cooperate with that work of God. Therefore, as Christians established as a community of Christ's church on earth we make a choice to accept God's invitation to worship with other Christian believers. We come together to worship God because God commanded it for our good so we remember and recognize the dynamic process of God's saving initiative in the world.

"Going to church" plunges us into this dynamic process that has a dual direction. In worship God comes to us through the Word and through the Sacraments offering redemptive grace. Our cooperative response as a community of faithful followers of Christ becomes the pattern that makes God's initiative visible to the world. This is how it should be for us every day of our lives as Christians but so often we overlook and fail to see the holy in the everyday.

If a friend or neighbor or co-worker asked you, "Why should I worship?" what would be your reply?

The pattern of God's good gifts to us and our human response have caused growth in some churches and division in others. As we discern what God intends for us to be as a community of faithful followers remember that we can be a sign of hope, a sign of what can be, a promise of a better world in the light of God's redemptive grace.

Bible Study

The Women’s Bible study group meets the 2nd Wednesday of the month on October 9 at 1:30 pm. The group meets in the Fireside Room with Jane Kraft as hostess. Everyone is welcome to attend.

When a member of the congregation passes away, families sometimes request for the members of the church prepare a lunch for the family. The funeral home contacts the church and we usually only have a few days to prepare.

So we have been working on updating our call list of workers and bakers. We have had an article in the past two Trumpets asking for your help. Jane Kraft has been ordering the food and delivering to the church the day of the funeral. We need to have people willing to provide cakes, bars or cookies per the family’s request and others to help make sandwiches, serve the food along with clean-up. Church doors on the day of a funeral are open by 7:00 am, so you can drop off baked goods before going to work.

If you have not turned in your form, it is not too late. Forms are still available at the back of the sanctuary or in the file holder outside the office, complete and return to envelope outside the church office. Or you can call or email to trinityc@iowatelecom.net and let us know how you can help. If you know that a funeral will be taking place at Trinity, you are welcome to call the office (394-2552) or Jane Kraft (641-229-1164) and tell us how you can help.

Book Club

The Book Club will meet at the home of Vi Sullivan on October 22nd, instead of the 15th. Our book will be “Where the Crawdads Sing“ by Delia Owens.

For years, rumors of the “Marsh Girl” have haunted Barkley Cove, a quiet town on the North Carolina coast. So in late 1969, when handsome Chase Andres is found dead, the locals immediately suspect Kya Clark, the so-called Marsh Girl. Please join us to find out what happens.

Greeter Coordinator

We are looking for someone to coordinate greeters for Sunday mornings. This person would contact members to be here on Sunday mornings by 8:40 to greet the morning worshippers. If you are interested in helping make calls, please contact Linda Schwickerath at 394-3773.

These bags are available for you to place a note of your choosing for each young person.
